MANILA, Dec. 23—(INS)—Japan's violent land offensive against fortified Manila was brought to a dead stop on the shores of Lingayen Bay today as the U. S. Army air force opened an offensive against weakly-held Nipponese ground positions in southern Luzon.

There was heavy fighting northwest of Manila where thousands of Japanese were landed from troop transports yesterday. But there was no material change in positions, indicating that American and Filipino troops were holding their ground and that any hopes for a mile-a-minute Japanese drive to Manila had been killed off.

The defenders of the Philippines maintained their positions despite extreme Japanese aerial activity.

A communique from the headquarters of General Douglas MacArthur, commander in chief of U. S. armed forces in the Far East, disclosed that the Japanese advance had been halted in the course of "very heavy fighting." At the same time, well informed sources in Manila said that the Japanese landing party was estimated at between 40,000 and 50,000 men, instead of the 80,000 to 100,000 announced by Washington yesterday.

Troop 3, Jr. C. D. of A.,
Has An Enjoyable Party

CROYDON, Dec. 23—A Christmas party was held by Troop No. 3, Junior Catholic Daughters of America, at the home of their counselor, Mrs. George Benneman. The decorations were in the Christmas colors, and a tree was trimmed with candy canes and gift packages. Santa (George Benneman) made his appearance, and distributed gifts from the tree, together with the Pollyanna items. Each member received a religious pin as a gift from their counselor.

Games were played and the prize-winners were: Margaret Tryon, Cathleen O'Donnell, "Peggy" Wong, Norma Ruland and Amelia Cutugno.

Refreshments were served at a table which had as its centerpiece a festive yule log and candles.

NO CLINIC THIS WEEK

The Well Baby Clinic will not be held this week due to holiday. Next week the clinic will be held Friday, January 2nd, in the Community House, from two to four p. m.

HARRISBURG, Dec. 23—The appointments of 48 County Boards of Assistance were announced today by Gov. Arthur H. James. They included: Bucks County—Mrs. Edith Weamer, Quakertown; Mrs. Lillian Williams, Langhorne; Mrs. Elizabeth Mercier Roberts, Southampton; all reappointments.

650 ITEMS OF FOOD ARE RECEIVED AT MATINEECanned Goods Presented As
Price of Admission at Red
Cross Benefit

BASKETS FOR THE NEEDY

Six hundred and fifty individuals, mostly girls and boys, packed the Bristol Theatre yesterday afternoon, at the Red Cross benefit matinee.

Each person attending presented at the door a can of fruits or vegetables, a package of cereal, or other carton of non-perishable food—the price of admission at this special program. These "prices" of admission to the theatre performance, will be used for the less fortunate residents of Bristol and vicinity, the Bristol Branch of the Red Cross using the goods to help fill Christmas Cheer baskets for 40 families of the area.

The management of the Bristol Theatre provided use of the theatre for the occasion.

The need, it is stated by Miss Frances Landreth, chairman of the home service department of the local Red Cross, is not as great as last year, when 62 baskets were delivered.

The Red Cross provides the chickens, eggs, butter, oranges and candy for the baskets, and to these items are added the canned fruits and vegetables, and the packaged goods provided through the theatre matinee.

If there are seven or more in a family two chickens are placed in the basket, and the number of stalks of celery and number of oranges are doubled. For the families of six or less one chicken is provided.

Women of the Red Cross are packing the baskets today, and will deliver the same this afternoon, with the aid of six young men from Bristol high school who are offering their services.

LATEST WAR BULLETINS

Violent Fighting Continues on Moscow Front

Berlin—By official German wireless—violent fighting on the Moscow front, where Nazi forces allegedly repulsed strong Soviet attacks and wrecked 19 Russian tanks, was announced today by the German High Command.

A war communique said: "Violent fighting in the central sector of the Eastern Front is continuing."

Must Make Last Stand

London—On the basis of latest advices from Libya, German General Erwin Rommel "now cannot avoid making a last stand at Bengazi," British military commentators said tonight.

Japanese Tanker Hit

Batavia, Neth.—Netherlands East Indies planes today roared to the assistance of embattled American and Filipino troops at Davao on the Philippine island of Mindanao, scoring a direct hit on a 10,000 ton Japanese tanker in the harbor.

Mindanao, southernmost point of the Philippine group, was invaded by Japanese troops early Saturday. It is only 300 miles from Dutch Borneo.

The Japanese officially claimed today to have occupied the city of Davao, hemp producing capital of the world and largest city of Mindanao.

Russian Troops Cross Volkhov River

Moscow—Further imperilling German legions trapped on the Leningrad front, swiftly advancing Russian troops have crossed the Volkhov River in a new series of thrusts against the beaten Nazis, the official newspaper Izvestia said today.

Soviet battalions now are driving swiftly for Leningrad from Tikhvin, it was said.

The Germans have been pressed back across the Volkhov and the Russians have made some crossings, trapping the enemy in the swamps and forests to the west.

Five thousand German troops in the Leningrad area already have been wiped out, the newspaper Pravda said, while new Soviet blows are being struck on the Moscow front.

To Eliminate Tariff Barriers Between U. S. and Canada

Washington—President Roosevelt announced today a sweeping agreement between the United States and Canada for elimination of all tariff and customs barriers for duration of the war as the keynote for "maximum war production in both countries in the shortest possible time."

The agreement calls for legislation in both countries removing all important duties, customs and other regulations or restrictions impeding the flow of vital supplies across the border.

The President, in a statement accompanying the declaration, said that the document had the unanimous approval of the Canadian cabinet, that he had directed affected bureaus and agencies in this country to abide by its letter and spirit, and that studies were now being made to determine what legislation will be needed to remove restrictive trade barriers between the two countries.

'Britons Jubilant Over Churchill's Visit

London—All Britain today jubilantly acclaimed Prime Minister Churchill's dramatic visit to President Roosevelt in Washington.

The visit—until it was announced officially—was one of the best kept secrets of the war in Britain. For a majority of Britons, the news came as a complete surprise when they heard it broadcast at 7 a. m. or read it in their morning newspapers. Everywhere there were immediate expressions of gratification.

DESPITE 77 YEARS, WOMAN
ACTIVE AIR-RAID SPOTTERMrs. O. P. Titus, Neshaminy, Goes On Duty Every Day
Fully Armed

IS ACTIVE IN AFFAIRS

NESHAMINY, Dec. 23—Each day from 11 a. m. until noon, Mrs. O. P. Titus, 77, shotgun in hand, keeps watch as she performs her duties as air raid spotter. Despite her age, Mrs. Titus was the first spotter to volunteer at the fire station here, the day after Uncle Sam declared war on Japan.

If the enemy has any silly notions of attacking Bucks county, let it not underestimate the peril of running into 77-year-old Mrs. O. P. Titus.

A widow and a grandmother, Mrs. Titus, with her shotgun, was on duty as usual today as the county's oldest air raid spotter and itching for a chance to knock the "hell out of those Japs."

Neshaminy residents said this is no idle threat, for Mrs. Titus, in spite of her years, is known as a veritable powerhouse when it comes to doing what she aims to do.

Mrs. Titus drives her own automobile, is president of the local school board and is a dynamo of activity in Red Cross work.

"I'm positive we're going to lick those gangster Japs," she reiterated as she patrolled her post at a central Bucks county observation station.

Each day from 11 a. m. to noon she keeps watch, sometimes with her 12-year-old grandson, Charles W. Titus, telephoning the Army of any enemy planes or other questionable aircraft.

Mrs. Titus said she regretted that her daily duty was so short, but she cannot neglect her other duties, such as hauling youngsters to school games.

PLUNGES TO DEATH

NEW YORK, Dec. 23—Mrs. Norma Corcoran, 45-year-old mother of three children, plunged to her death today from a midtown hotel. She was identified by her brother, Edward, who said she lived in Philadelphia. In her room police found three notes, one of which was addressed to her mother, Alice, and which read "You have been too kind to me."

Santa Claus Arrives At Party For Sunday School

NEWPORTVILLE, Dec. 23—The Sunday School of Newportville Community Church enjoyed a Christmas party in the church basement on Saturday evening. After the opening prayer by C. Burnley White, carol singing was participated in by the assemblage. The primary department pleased with songs and recitations. Mrs. R. Perpete's class gave a junior candlelight service; and singing followed by Mrs. Kohler's and Mrs. Ingraham's classes. The Misses Ruth and Marion Mattocks each gave a recitation. With jingle of bells and amid applause, Santa Claus arrived with his pack, and with Mr. White's help, gave gifts to the children. Each pupil also received a box of candy. Oranges were also given out, donations from the fire company.

All departments of the Sunday School gathered in the church at 10 a. m. on Sunday, for Christmas service. Ruth and Marion Mattocks favored with a vocal duet. Scripture reading was given by Betty Bogarde. The primary department gave a pageant, depicting the Christmas story in song and pantomime. Eight girls from Mrs. Kohler's class sang a carol. Mr. White then presented Karl Kohler, who has enlisted in the U. S. Navy, with a gift from the Sunday School. Mr. White spoke briefly to the children, and the service closed with singing of "America" by the assemblage.

MORRISVILLE, Dec. 23—In co-operation with the Morrisville Air Raid volunteers, four suburban sections just north of the borough have voted to purchase a siren for air raid warnings.

The siren has been ordered and will be placed on the Yardley Road at a suitable location to serve the Arborlea, Westover, West Acres and Edgely Hill Gardens.

Richard L. Allen, deputy air raid warden of Morrisville, attended a meeting at the home of Wendell Oliver, of 17 West Ferry Road, and presided over by Arborlea Association President Theodore Feislak. Allen explained what Morrisville has done in the emergency air raid warning service, and said it would be difficult for residents of these areas to hear the Morrisville siren in case of an air raid. Allen expressed the thought the new siren set-up will be connected with the Morrisville siren, if possible, so that all warnings will be made at the same time. Some 35 representatives of the

Libellants Filed Actions
In Common Pleas Court

ALL CHARGE DESERTION

DOYLESTOWN, Dec. 23—Two husbands and one wife are suing for divorce, according to the papers which have been filed in the Court of Common Pleas.

Walter E. Brand, Sr., has named his wife, Susanna Brand, the respondent in a libel in divorce charging her with desertion.

The libellant, who lives at 337 Cedar street, Bristol, and the respondent were married May 27, 1907, in Philadelphia. The present address of the respondent is 6160 Hagerman street, Philadelphia. The desertion is alleged to have taken place May 19, 1939.

Charging his wife, Ella Bullock Gordon, with desertion, Ernest Gordon, Lincolnia, Langhorne, R. D. 1, has begun an action in divorce here. According to the libel in the office of Prothonotary Ezra Miller, the couple were married August 12, 1935, in Philadelphia.

The desertion is alleged to have taken place September 1, 1935. The libellant, who lived in Bucks county from 1924 to 1939, has been making his home in Lincolnia since 1935. The address of the respondent is 25 North Delaware avenue, Atlantic City, N. J.

In an action in divorce, Dora F. Mastrocola is charging her husband, Charles Mastrocola, with desertion March 5, 1939. The couple were married by Justice of the Peace James Laughlin, November 12, 1938, at Croydon. The libellant's address is Bristol Pike, Cornwells Heights, and that of the respondent is Excelsior avenue and Main street, Croydon.

BETROTHED

Joseph Liberatori, Camden, N. J., announced at a Saturday evening affair, the engagement of his daughter, Miss Mary Liberatori, to Albert Nepi, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gaetano Nepi, of Lincoln avenue. The affair took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Valinotto, Lincoln avenue, uncle and aunt of Miss Liberatori. No date has been set for the wedding.

CHRISTMAS PARTY TONIGHT

The annual Christmas party will be held this evening by the Women of the Moose in the Moose home. A turkey dinner will be served at seven o'clock, and the regular meeting will follow.

Safety Awards Presented
To Departments at Party

The employees of Paterson Parchment Paper Company held their annual turkey dinner and entertainment in the War Memorial Building, Trenton, N. J., on Friday evening.

Dinner was served to approximately 500, after which a floor show and dancing were enjoyed.

Safety awards for the year were won by the maintenance department, power house, printing department and paper making department.

AN ALL-OUT EFFORT

Enthusied with patriotic zeal, employees of the Hunter Manufacturing Company, in its 16 departments at the Croydon plant of the firm, are putting forth herculean efforts to defeat those foes of democracy. In these departments, the employees come principally from Bristol and its immediate vicinity.

Each department has taken a collection, and purchased a flag, five by eight feet, which is being appropriately displayed in each section.

The men are making an all-out effort to attain and maintain peak production, and their loyalty to Uncle Sam is shown by the purchase and display of the 16 flags.

The Hunter firm is engaged in producing ordnance materials for the United States.

Save Christmas Cards;
Red Cross Will Use Them

Individuals who usually discard their Christmas greeting cards, are requested to save them this year for use of the Junior Red Cross.

The students of the local schools, under direction of Mrs. Carl Foell, will make calendars and menu cards for use of the men in the U. S. Army and Navy, to use next year.

Those having cards to donate are asked to send them to Red Cross headquarters, 120 Mill street, or telephone Mrs. Foell, Bristol 2191, and they will be called for.

Christmas Cheer Provided
By Pupils Singing Carols

Christmas cheer was taken to patients in Bristol's two hospitals, yesterday, when 60 students of Bristol high school, members of the capella choir and of the brass quartet, presented Christmas carols.

Not only were carols sung for the ill in hospitals, but also for the pupils in six other school buildings of Bristol—Bath, Wood, Jefferson, and Harrison buildings of the public school system; and St. Mark's and St. Ann's parochial schools.

Four of the places were visited in the morning, and four in the afternoon. Five or six numbers were sung at each building, with the brass quartet accompanying some of the selections. Charles Quigley, musical director of Bristol high school, was in charge.

TULLYTOWN, Dec. 23—"O. K." is the message which Mr. and Mrs. Ferdinand Bachofer have received from their son, Private Ferdinand Bachofer, Jr., who is stationed with the U. S. Army troops at Schofield Barracks, near Honolulu, Hawaii.

Mr. and Mrs. Bachofer received a letter from their son yesterday, and although it had been sent by air mail on December 10th, it was evidently delayed in transit.

He stated that he was very busy, and added: "I am all O. K. The worst is over. I am driving a truck to haul supplies. Everybody is all set for those babies."

Young Bachofer has been in the army for the past six months.

MRS. ELLIS IN CHARGE

Mrs. Francis Ellis, Lafayette street, had complete charge of the preparations for the serving of the menu at the Latin Club banquet in Bristol high school last week. In the information provided for the press by high school officials, Mrs. Ellis' name was inadvertently omitted.

Tough On The Hungry!

(By "The Stroller")

One of the characters impersonated in a Christmas play on Sunday evening at Bristol Methodist Church, was a starving lad, who entered a cobbler's shop in search of food.

Admitting that he was on the verge of starvation, and desired food more than anything else, the cobbler left the room stating he would bring food. When he returned to the stage he carried an overcoat, which he handed the lad, without any explanations.

At the close of the performance the reason for the strange act was revealed. Someone had eaten the food.

NAME "FAIR RENT" COMMITTEE FOR
BRISTOL BOROUGHOrganization Perfected Here
To Prevent Excessive Increases in Rents

WM. BEGLEY, CHAIRMAN

Committee Set Up at Request of Price Administration Office in Washington

A "Fair Rent" Committee for Bristol was instituted and organized yesterday following an announcement of the personnel of the committee by Burgess Clifford L. Anderson. The committee was named by Burgess Anderson upon the request of Clarence A. McGowan, representing the Price Administration office of the Federal Government.

The committee consists of the following:

William Begley, chairman; David Hutchinson, vice chairman; Mrs. E. Linton Martin, secretary; the Rev. James R. Gailey, pastor of the Bristol Presbyterian Church and Edgar J. Spencer, president of the Mill Street Business Men's Association. Mr. Hutchinson is financial secretary of the Carpenters and Joiners Union of Bristol.

It is the object of the committee to determine "fair" rents for properties here in view of the active demand which is reported now to be exceeding the supply, thus creating a tendency to "excessively" increase rents.

"Fair Rent" committees are being set-up in defense areas where statistics show that the demand for properties is in excess of the supply and where indications point to a considerable increase in the demand for properties. Such conditions exist here in the opinion of the Federal Government and Mr. McGowan was assigned here to organize and set-up the committee.

It was made clear that the committee is not to deal with "chronic" complainers and that the committee is to be fair to both the landlord and the tenant.

The committee met in the Municipal Building and its objects and purposes were outlined by Mr. McGowan, who has been here at intervals for the past week.

The committee named June 1, 1941, as a "Fair Rent" date and every increase which has occurred subsequent to that time may properly be subjected to the scrutiny of the Committee.

The rent on the "Fair Rent Date" is to be considered the basic rent for the dwelling unit. Increases in rent above this level are allowed only when one or more of the following five conditions is alleged and proven by the landlord:

1. That the landlord has made significant changes in structure and facilities since the Fair Rent Date. When this has occurred, the cost of these changes are required into, and the Committee allows an increase proportionate with the cost of the improvement liquidated over a reasonable period of time.

2. That there has been a rise in the cost of maintenance and service provided on the Fair Rent Date. Wage increases to service employees for example fall into this category. Actual increased costs are to be pro-rated throughout the year among all tenants making use of the services involved.

3. That there has been a rise in the

ICE BEGINS TO CRACK?

Whether there is complete factual justification for Russian description of the German flight from Moscow as paralleling Napoleon's historic retreat, there is no doubt that Hitler has suffered a defeat that may assume catastrophic proportions. Not only in the Moscow sector, but all the way from the Baltic to the Black Sea, the Russians report smashing gains for their armies, and German retreats which, at some points, are characterized as "disordered flights."

Has the ice begun to crack? Is his Russian debacle the forerunner of Hitler's Waterloo? It would be over-optimism to venture such a forecast at this stage of the war. Napoleon had a fairly tight stranglehold on much of the continent of Europe, but he had no powerful Oriental ally, such as Hitler possesses, to divert the naval strength of his adversaries to the other side of the world. And it must be remembered that, although the Russian disaster was Napoleon's first major reverse and the turning point of his military career, he attributed his own eventual and complete defeat to British sea power.

Britain still has preponderance of sea power—and now the American Navy, even larger than Britain's, has entered the fray. The greater part of American naval strength is engaged, for the time being, in the Far East. But Germany may have built too high hopes of winning the Battle of the Atlantic by diversion of Allied sea power to the Pacific.

There also is the element of air power which did not exist in Napoleon's time. And finally it must be remembered that, while Napoleon's retreat from Moscow took place in the winter of 1812-13, abdication at Fontainebleau and brief exile to Elba did not come until the spring of 1814—and final defeat did not come until Waterloo in the summer of 1815.

History may have a way of repeating itself, but seldom, if ever, does history repeat with an eye on the calendar. So it is wise to counsel against relying on Napoleonic chronology to the extent of looking for a preliminary collapse of Hitler's empire in the spring of 1943, with final and complete Nazi capitulation in the summer of 1944—although it might just happen that way.

"How far is Saint Helena from the Berezina ice?" It would be foolhardy to venture a prophetic answer. For the moment, it suffices to know that Hitler is learning as Napoleon learned (again to quote Kipling on that square) that "when you can't go forward, you must e'en go back."

THE BRAUN QUESTION

Not long ago a certain brigadier general said in an address: "American youth has turned soft while Nazi soldiers are athletes, every man of them. Something is wrong with the American youth of today."

It may be true that American boys do not get enough exercise. Many of them do ride to school, instead of walking, as their fathers did. Perhaps they do lounge in movies, football stands and roadhouses, sitting on the backs of their necks, instead of getting out and building themselves up physically. Maybe that is one point in which the Germans have the advantage over the Americans.

But such critics of American youth must not forget one thing: the American spirit.

NEWS BRIEFS FROM SUBURBAN TOWNS

FALLSINGTON

Mr. and Mrs. George Drews were dinner guests at the home of Mrs.

Drew's father, Walter Lord, of Brownsburg.

A dinner in commemoration of the 100th anniversary of the Fallsington Friends' Meeting House (North Building), and a presentation of an oak tree, brought from near the grave of William Penn, Jordan, England, will be held next Thursday, at six o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. James Dooling, Lawrence Dooling, Misses Flora, Claire and Martha Dooling, of Trenton, have been visiting at the home of Mrs. Dooling's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Wolpert.

Among the guests to be entertained at Christmas by Mrs. Mari F. Dunn, of Morris Heights, will be Mrs. Annie T. O'Brien, Trenton; Mrs. Elizabeth M. Smith, Morrisville, and Louise White Watson, Fallsington.

Prepare For Christmas

A busy morning in the kitchen will enable you to prepare a number of attractive delicacies for the coming celebration—inexpensive "goodies" that would be practically impossible to purchase.

Do you remember those popcorn balls that hung on your Christmas tree 20 years ago? Well! The modern version is now with us in the form of chocolate coated popcorn wrapped in red and green cellophane and tied with colored cellophane straws or fancy Christmas ribbons. Silver and gold stars are pasted on the outside while the necessary string is attached to the center when the balls are molded.

Another novelty for the holidays—an excellent gift for the boys at camp—are Graham Fudgies—cookies wrapped attractively in colored cellophane.

Chocolate Coated Popcorn
1 package chocolate fudge mix
½ cup water

¼ cup butter
½ cup corn syrup
2 cups coarsely chopped nuts
4-5 quarts popcorn
Combine fudge mix, water, butter and sirup and cook while stirring frequently until it is brittle when tested in cold water. If you have a thermometer, cook to 260-270 degrees F. Immediately remove from fire and pour quickly over popped corn and nuts. Stir lightly and quickly. Butter fingers lightly and mold mixture quickly into 2-inch popcorn balls.

Graham Fudgies

1 package fudge mix, chocolate or penuche flavor
4 tablespoons butter
4 tablespoons water
1 cup nutmeats
2 cups graham crackers
Combine contents of package of fudge mix with melted butter and water in top of double boiler. Heat, stirring frequently 4 minutes, then add cracker crumbs and nuts. Spread into pan covered with wax paper, pressing mixture into a flat sheet.

Quick-Frozen Foods Make "Hurry Up" Dinner Easy

Even if you go to business and don't assume the job of chief cook until six o'clock, you can still be a nonchalant hostess if you plan your menus around quick-frozen foods. There are no tedious preparation tasks to spot manueuvres and swallow up precious leisure moments. The quick-frozen fruits, vegetables, sea food, poultry and meats all come ready to cook or serve.

Oysters, shrimps, scallops and red perch are just a few of the sea food delicacies that quick-freezing has made available to budget menus all the year around no matter how far you live from the deep sea fishing grounds. Start your "hurry up" menu off with a shrimp cocktail. Serve baked fillet of red perch with broccoli and then for dessert, quick-frozen strawberries with cream. You'll need less than half an hour's kitchen duty to prepare and serve this luscious "shore dinner," so if you get home by six, you can take time for a beauty treatment before you tackle the job of chief cook and still serve dinner at seven. All these quick-frozen delicacies are a special boon to the family health because precious vitamins and minerals are sealed in by quick-freezing.

Perch Baked with Tomato

1 pound quick-frozen fillet of red perch
1 tablespoon minced onion
2 tablespoons butter
1½ cups canned tomatoes
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon sugar
5 drops Worcestershire sauce
Separate fillets (frozen or thawed); sprinkle with salt and pepper and arrange in shallow baking dish. Saute onion in butter, add tomatoes and seasonings, and boil 5 minutes; pour over fish. Bake in hot oven (450 degrees F.) 20 minutes, or until done. Serves two to three.

ROASTING TIME VARIES WITH SIZE OF THE TURKEY

By Miss Ema Stephany

(Home Economics Representative)
Every homemaker has her own idea on stuffing for the holiday turkey, but there are questions in the minds of many homemakers today as to what is the best way to roast the bird. Food experts have spent a great deal of time in studying the best methods for roasting turkeys. Here are some of their findings.

After the turkey is stuffed and trussed, rub it all over with butter and place it breast side down on a rack in a shallow pan. Do not add water and do not cover. For a turkey weighing 6 to 9 pounds, dressed weight, have a moderate oven, 325 degrees Fahrenheit and roast 2½ to 3 hours. Temperatures and times for heavier birds are: 10 to 13 pounds, 300 degrees Fahrenheit for 3 to 4 hours; 14 to 17 pounds, 275 degrees Fahrenheit for 4½ to 5½ hours; and 18 to 25 pounds, 250 to 275 degrees Fahrenheit for 6 to 8 hours.

If you place the turkey on a rack so the back of the bird is up most of the time during roasting, the thighs will cook thoroughly without the meat pulling away from the breastbone. Every half hour turn small or medium sized birds and baste with pan drippings or with a mixture of half butter and half water. Turning every hour is sufficient for a large bird when the oven is slow. If there is a good layer of fat beneath the skin, it is not necessary to baste the turkey.

To keep from breaking the skin in turning, lift the bird at the head and foot with clean folded cloths to protect the hands. The turkey is done when you pierce the thickest part of the bird with a fork and the juice does not show a red tinge.

Capons or chickens may be roasted the same as turkeys except the oven temperature can be higher, about 350 degrees Fahrenheit and the time of cooking is shorter.

We're all serving the kind of steak you cook by braising these days—all because it's less expensive than the tender cuts. It's one good reason for gathering a supply of good recipes using less tender cuts of steaks. Here is one that joins round steak with cooked spaghetti in tomato sauce—and that their perfect harmony of seasoning and spicing—so they make good sauses for meats and give certain vegetables tempting savoriness.

Calves' Liver with Mushrooms

1 lb. calves' liver, sliced ¼ inch thick
2 tablespoons butter
3 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon salt
1 medium (2 cups) can cream of mushroom soup

Place liver in boiling water, remove from heat and let remain 5 minutes. Drain, then cut into ¼ inch cubes. Fry in butter until well browned. Sprinkle with flour and salt, and mix thoroughly. Pour soup over liver and cook, stirring constantly, until thickened. Add pepper to taste. Serve between hot biscuits or over toast.

Broccoli with Chicken Sauce

2 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons flour
1 medium (2 cups) can country-style chicken soup
1 bunch broccoli, separated and cooked

Melt butter, add flour and blend well. Cook until bubbling, then add soup and cook, stirring constantly, until thickened. Serve as sauce over broccoli (between ½ and ¾ cup per serving). Serve on toast for luncheon dish. Serves 4 to 6. This sauce may also be used on asparagus.

The butler got down on his hands and knees to retrieve the lost shoe.

scarlet. Kirk came to the rescue. "Leave her alone, Tom. She looks fine!"

The dinner was a nightmare. Mrs. Hollister, trying to be kind, had kept it as simple as possible, but the array of silver, the faultless service, the parade of dishes all confused Sonny. She found it almost impossible to eat. Kirk tried to help and kept an eye on her, but even he could not understand what an ordeal it was for the girl from the little roadside restaurant.

Sonny did look pretty, thought Mrs. Hollister, as she watched her covertly. But the older woman was appalled and heartsick for the future. Tom would get tired of her by the end of summer. The dowager was a kindly and understanding person. She knew that this elopement would not hurt Tom much. But with the girl, it was different.

Hollister, oblivious to the undertones, thought Leslie was a nice child. She'd learn, the banker decided, and she'd learn quickly.

Tom seemed oblivious to all such serious considerations. It was amusing to be home, the center of excitement and attention. He'd got off easy. Like his father, he felt Sonny would be all right within a week. Tom was quite content.

Sonny could feel the butler's opaque eyes avoiding her nervous argument. Tom's father listened with a heavy heart.

Finally Mrs. Hollister rose from the table. The rest of them started to follow—all except Sonny. "Tom, I've lost my slipper." Her face was crimson as the butler got down on his hands and knees to retrieve the lost shoe. Everybody laughed.

"We'll have properly fitted shoes tomorrow, Leslie," Mrs. Hollister said kindly and escorted Sonny to the terrace where coffee was waiting.

Even before they'd finished their coffee, Tom was off. When he had gone, the four sat in painful silence. Finally Kirk suggested that he and Sonny go for a walk. They started down a flagged pathway toward the Sound. A new moon was rising. It was a gorgeous June night, cool and peaceful. Now and then a boat whistle was heard or a night bird calling. The two walked in silence until they came to a promontory which gave them a balcony view of the water below. There was a bench. Kirk motioned to it, with "Let's just sit and look."

But Sonny was oblivious to what lay spread before her glimmering in the early moonlight. "What am I to do? I don't fit in here. I can't stay!" she burst out.

NO PRIMARY WORRIES

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn.—(INS)—Already in Tennessee they are saying that the state's 1942 Democratic primary is just a formality. The situation was considered "sewed up" when Senator Tom A. Stewart, controller of the state's federal patronage, formally endorsed Governor Prentice Cooper who cup.

has already announced his intention of seeking a third term in office. In turn, the Governor endorsed Stewart for reelection, and everybody was happy about the whole thing.

PANAMA CITY, Fla.—(INS)—D. G. McQuagge, county tax assessor, has his own plan to defeat the tuberculosis threat, and at the same time battle Hitler. "Instead of sending out your usual Christmas card this year," he suggested, "everyone should buy a penny postal card . . . and paste a tuberculosis seal and a 10-cent defense stamp on each one." Three birds will be killed with one card, McQuagge maintained: "You would greet your friend; protect your freedom, and help in anti-tuberculosis work."

cost of fuel and utilities. The actual increase to be pro-rated throughout the year among all tenants in the building using the same heating facilities.

4. That there has been a rise in local taxes. Such increase to be pro-rated throughout the year among all tenants occupying the building on which the taxes are levied.

5. That on the Fair Rent Date the landlord was granting the tenant an extraordinary concession in rent for personal reasons. In this case the Committee will have to determine what a comparable dwelling in the same community rented for on the Fair Rent Date and set that amount as the Fair Rent. The same type of appraisal will have to be undertaken: (a) for new construction; (b) for units which have recently come into the market as a result of conversion; (c) for units which were not rented on the Fair Rent Date.

Now that the committee has been organized and is ready to function tenants who think they are paying excessive rents are privileged to file a complaint with the committee. Forms for these complaints will be available at the Municipal Building at the police desk. These complaints filed with the committee are then reviewed by the Committee and if in its judgment the rent is excessive the landlord is contacted and a "fair rent" for the property is suggested. If the landlord does not agree to the suggestion then a hearing is held with the landlord and tenant both being present or appearing separately at which time all of the facts and details are reviewed and the Committee hands down its decision.

The Committee decided to meet again on January 22nd.

"Mrs. Titus has more nerve and more pep than all our other spotters put together," said Butler.

IMPORTANT

This nation is now engaged in a Two-Ocean War.

Long-haul communications become a vital factor in such a conflict. Both the armed forces and defense industry must be served. Switchboards and circuits, man-power and facilities of the telephone system are being taxed to the limit—pretty much swamped, day and evening—with no let-up in sight.

We therefore ask that on Christmas Eve and on Christmas Day telephone greetings, particularly by Long Distance, be confined to the absolute minimum—to make way for the armed forces.

There will be delays on many calls over the longer routes. This is inevitable. But with your co-operation such delays can be kept to a minimum.

Magic Fruited Macaroons

2/3 cup (7 1/2 oz. can) sweetened condensed milk
2 cups shredded coconut
1 teaspoon vanilla (optional)
1 cup finely chopped dates, dried prunes or apricots
Mix sweetened condensed milk and coconut. Add vanilla, if desired. Add either dates, prunes or apricots, which have been finely chopped. Drop by spoonfuls on greased baking sheet about 1 inch apart. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 10 minutes or until a delicate brown. Remove from pan at once. Makes about 30.

Chocolate Fudge

2 cups sugar
1/2 cup water
1 1/3 cups (15 oz. can) sweetened condensed milk
3 squares unsweetened chocolate, cut in small pieces
1 cup nut meats, chopped (optional)
Mix sugar, water, and sweetened condensed milk in large saucepan. Cook, stirring constantly, over medium heat to 237 degrees F. or until mixture forms firm ball when tested in cold water. Remove from heat. Add chocolate and beat until chocolate is melted. Add nut meats. Beat at once until thick and creamy. Pour into buttered pan. When cool, cut into squares. Makes 1 1/2 pounds.

COURSE FOR INSPECTORS

STATE COLLEGE, Pa.—(INS)—In an attempt to develop a practical course for metallurgical inspectors at the Pennsylvania State College, members of the metallurgy staff, in collaboration with the Army, Navy and steel producers, have assembled what is the largest collection of defective steel mill products housed in any educational institution. College officials agreed that a large part of the course should be devoted to the study of defects and how they originate during steel making, tapping, ingot pouring or rolling.

Today's Quiet Moment

(By the Rev. James R. Galley)

Pastor, Bristol Presbyterian Church

We praise Thee, O God, for the deliverance extended to the world through the advent of Jesus Christ, Thy Son. We thank Thee that the darkness has been dispelled by the light of His countenance. Direct our thoughts, that we might think what conditions would be like without Him. Fill our hearts with Thy Spirit, that we might be led to the spirit of the manger, there to present ourselves living sacrifices unto Him, Who is our Life. In His blessed Name we pray. Amen.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sullivan, Philadelphia, will be Christmas Day guests of their relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew H. Moore, 342 Monroe street.

THE LORD HAS COME

Hail, Mary, thou anointed of the Lord. Peace be unto thee, be thou not afraid. For God is with thee to bless and honor.

As through His word and prophecy was said.

Through thee the Saviour of the world shall come, The Lord, the Prince, and Mighty counsellor, Of peace and righteousness for all mankind, He the mighty, the sinners comfortor.

Although in poverty He shall be born, His riches know no end in all the earth.

For He is God, Immaculate, supreme, All heaven and angels heralded His birth.

Oh happy day, the natal day of Christ, Although a manger was His cradle bed; He slept in peace while angels guarded 'round, And later thorns would pierce His noble head.

Yes, Christ is born, the Saviour of the world, In Bethlehem, the Lord's appointed place; While shepherds watched and heard the angels sing.

The chorus, peace on earth, good will with grace.

JOHN G. FERGUSON, Andalusia, Pa.

LEMONS AND WINTER

Of special interest as winter approaches is the use of lemons for lemon and soda, lemon juice and water, and old-fashioned hot lemonade. The first two combinations are constantly gaining favor as a daily tonic and regulator. Research indicates that lemon juice and soda or lemon juice and water taken daily, morning or evening, is often effective in assisting the body to resist common colds and flu. Modern consumers have found that grandmother's cold remedy, hot lemonade, is really effective and thus this use of lemons also continues to gain in popularity.

ON THE SCREENS

GRAND THEATRE

comedy, at the Grand Theatre, offers Nelson Eddy in a gay, romantic role, and introduces Rise Stevens, a new singing star.

Not only does the picture give Eddy's voice full range with a wide variety of songs, but it gives him a part ideally suited to him, as a young singer and husband determined to find out whether or not his wife loves him and him alone. Their harum-scarum domestic life reaches its climax when he masquerades as his own rival.

For the first time on the screen, Eddy sings in two voices, his natural baritone and bass, in playing the dual roles.

BRISTOL THEATRE

Franchot Tone appears in one of the leading roles of "This Woman Is Mine," a new Universal adventure romance produced and directed by Frank Lloyd, which opens today at the Bristol Theatre.

Tone, in one of his best roles since Lloyd's "Mutiny on the Bounty," is co-starred with such well-known players as John Carroll, Walter Brennan and Carol Bruce. Nigel Bruce, Leo G. Carroll and Frank Conroy are featured.

RITZ THEATRE

Joan Bennett hilariously goes to work, both literally and figuratively, on Wall street in "She Knew All the Answers."

Answers," which opened yesterday at the Ritz Theatre. With Franchot Tone of the gayest love-and-laugh comedies co-starred as a Wall Street broker who doesn't like show girls, the film is one of the year.

WARNING FEET! If you do your full part in seeing to it that this country wins the war, you will be walking more indoor or outdoor miles than you are accustomed to. You cannot afford the paralyzing fatigue of tired, hurting feet. Be sure you have comfortable shoes. Let us heartily recommend some Red Cross shoes. Snellenburgs—the only place you can buy Red Cross shoes in Philadelphia—have stocked up on the smart but extremely practical lasts. Personally, I like the swank "Exerciser." You, young or old, may like another, more your particular type. All $6.50. Wearing is believing. 1st fl.

FIREMAN'S STYLE. A lot of warm courage can be imparted by little red underwear. There's a laugh in it, heat in it, not to speak of its new being tops for smartness. At least two pants of it should be in every girl's or woman's air-raid grip. Just in case we don't need 'em—if you know what I mean. A length adjustable for above or below the knees, 50% wool, 50% cotton, costs only 85c. If you prefer pink snuggles same length (air-raid length), I'd say, yet good any cold time, there are some in 20% wool and 5% silk, 75% cotton, at 65c for over-knee, 50c for above knee. All small, medium, or large. Snellenburg's 1st fl.

SWANK, PRACTICAL are the Bell Meil coats I've discovered. The price? Glorious! $6.95. Made for every woman under forty. School girls adore them. Worn rain or shine (they're water-repellent), these coverts have a military snap. Snuggly zippered. With or without linings. Worn alone or over dresses, suits. Generous pockets. Putty, rose, aqua, powder blue. Worn the year round. Sizes 10 to 20. Pork pie hat to match, $1.35! Snellenburg's regular 2nd fl. Coat Dept.

HEARTH COATS! There's a scramble about town for wool "hearth coats," but I've discovered practical beauties in Snellenburg's 2nd fl. Negligee Dept. Smart navy wool, mostly zippered, some wrap arounds. Hurry if you want one. Priced variously at $6.98 to $10.98. Just the tailored thing for anxious nights and sudden appearances. Not only smart but warm as warm, being 100% wool. Not all sizes, but a good assortment. Such practical tailored robes hard to find.

May you have a good Christmas yourselves and, besides, pass on much joy to others. I pray that I have helped you to do just that. Faithfully, FAITH.

TO SHIRK IS UNPARDONABLE. "As the days lengthen the cold strengthens." Which means, for thoughtful women, war knitting and more war knitting. Uncle Sam doesn't supply soldiers with such necessary luxuries. It's up to us. Don't know how to knit? Begin on a sleeveless sweater. The two hanks of wool, needles, printed and verbal instructions offered for $1.38 at the Emergency Aid table in Snellenburg's Art Needlework Dept. To each such slip-over turned in there is attached a slip with your name and address, that the soldier or sailor may thank you personally. Investigate at once! 4th fl. Art Needlework Dept.

WE MAY BE IN DOORS more. For family morale we must keep supplied with interesting things to do. Reading plays a great part in mental hygiene. Use some of the Christmas gift money for books after Christmas and give books before Christmas. I recommend putting some book money into several inexpensive classics such as Snellenburg's famous and most fascinating long list of attractive volumes for children and young people, at only 50c each. Reprints of adult best sellers are actually only 75c each. You'll see these attractive editions and stock up! 1st fl. Book Dept.

TRIFLING? Not a bit. This idea of everyone carrying a defense emergency pencil. Jotting down notes can be highly important. Memory can't always be trusted, nor can messengers. Consequently, one of the best pencil firms has gotten out a splendid "Defense Pencil." Just the thing as a gift or to buy with that Christmas dollar. Good gift for man, woman, or child. Automatic, thin lead. Combined red plastic, white pearl, blue plastic. Snellenburg's pen and pencil counter, 1st fl.

BLESSINGS ON THE ONE who designed separate coat linings! These convenient emergency things can be buttoned to any coat (the buttons come with them) in cold weather, removed when the thermometer moves upward. Buy them in different thicknesses, sleeved or sleeveless, in different colors. Mostly rayon silk or satin. Girls are especially fond of them. Sizes up to 38, $3.95 to $6.95. Sensible investment for that Christmas check. Snellenburg's regular 2nd fl. Coat Dept.

A Merry Christmas A Happy New Year

For kind thoughts, and loyal support for all courtesies extended us during the past year, we thank you sincerely. May your Christmas be joyful and your New Year prosperous.

Jimmy Cooper's Eight Points
Led the Gasoleers in The Victory

St. Ann's A. A. went into third place in the Bristol circuit by winning out over the Voltz-Texaco team, 40-30, in a fast game played on the Mutual Aid floor.

The "Saints" scored twenty times from the floor and failed to make a foul shot. The scoring was divided among Zack, Bucknum, Alolio, and De-Bronze with Zack being held with six double-deckers.

"Jimmy" Cooper's eight points led the gasoleers. Every player on the losing aggregation scored at least two points. The St. Ann's team scored 12 points in the last quarter of the tilt to hoist the margin of victory.

FIFTH WARD FIRMLY GRIPS LEAGUE LEAD

Excellent marksmanship from the foul line gave the Fifth Ward Sporting Club undisputed possession of first place in the Bristol Basketball League last night as the Warders won over the Profy team, 23-21, in a close-guarding tilt.

The Sporting Club had eight chances from the gift line and dropped in the sphere on seven of those tries. The Radiomen had nine opportunities from the foul mark and only converted once. From the field, the Mill Streeters outscored their opponents, 10 to 8.

Both clubs watched their high-scoring men closely. Vince Profy who was among the leaders in scoring was held to a single field goal while Pica and Petropaul were also held low. Steve Florito managed to sink in the points which decided the tilt, he scoring eight points.

HIGH SCHOOL TEAM READY TO OPEN SEASON

Bristol high school's basketball team will play 14 scheduled games this season and will try to cop the Lower Bucks County crown.

The cage-men of Coach Bartholomew and the sextet of Coach Kallenbach will both send their teams on the floor for a practice tilt with the Alumni.

Danny DiMidio will captain the boys' Alumni, and all those who are interested in playing please get in touch with Captain DiMidio.

The Bristol Bunnies expect to have a very successful season this year because of the veterans who have returned to the squad. They include: Chick DiAngelo, Walt Wilson, Paul Ruby, Kenny Herrmann, Joe Accardi, Jimmy Hopkins, and Nick Melideo.
